Wester T Company
Web Designer - Internship

New start-up company looking for a marketplace web designer to create a very simple marketplace where people can buy and sell a certain type of information. The store will be a simple layout that will look like a glorified excel sheet. There will only be five main pages on the website.

A mockup and more information is available, if interested. This is a paid internship.

To apply, email Chris Bilezikian at westertcompany@gmail.com with website programming experience.
