

Undergraduate Computer Expert Position Opening for Spring 2012

We are looking for a talented individual who can work with our current computer expert for approximately 10 hours per week to help manage our computers and servers and develop user-friendly modules to be used by students in introductory biology.

Full-time summer employment and/or long-term employment are possible. Hourly salary is competitive.

Qualifications - Specifically, an ideal applicant would have these qualifications:

- Familiarity with the Unix operating system - specifically BASH scripting and source code compilation with GCC / make
- Basic knowledge of APACHE
- Programming knowledge: necessary languages include (but not limited to) PHP, PERL, Javascript, HTML, Java, C++
- Knowledge of database management - MySQL is used on the servers
- Basic PC and Mac computer repair skills.

If you are interested in applying for this position, please send a resume and statement of interest to Mrs. Catherine Sarmadi, Biological Sciences, 1020B Derring Hall, 231- 5125, csarmadi@vt.edu.