Virginia Tech Human Resources

Job Description:
As a student member of the IT team in Human Resources, this position will help provide software development support of Human Resources Information Systems applications. Student developer will work closely with members of Human Resources business teams to create, maintain and implement source codes in support of various HR initiatives. Must be an enrolled VT student and be able to work during normal business hours (M-F 8-5).

Qualifications:
Knowledge of sound software practices including front-end and back-end web development; ability to research technical issues and generate creative solutions; exposure to Microsoft Visual Studio, ASP.NET, and C#; good people skills; be responsible, reliable, and professional.

To apply, please send a resume and cover letter to [Steven Yi at syi15@vt.edu].